Online Condo Floor Plans

Stated dimensions are measured to the exterior boundaries of the exterior walls and the centerline of interior demising walls and in each area from the finished surface of the floor to the finished surface of the ceiling above. Actual usable area of the Unit will be less than the stated dimensions due to the inclusion of wall thickness in the stated dimensions. Ceiling heights may be reduced by bulkheads and other structural and design elements. Actual dimensions may vary from the stated dimensions. Dimensions may also vary due to field construction conditions and tolerances. Actual as-built conditions may differ from those shown in these floor plans. Refer to your Agreement for Sale for the applicable boundary definitions. Balconies are measured to the outside face of the railing. Actual usable area of balconies may differ from the stated dimensions due to railing angles. Refer to your Agreement for Sale for applicable boundary definitions. Floor plans are subject to change.
